

TWO BRIDGES ARE FOUND TO BE UNSAFE BERLIN STREETS FILLED WITH DEAD AS RIOTERS BECOME ENRAGED

M'CCLAIN ORDERS ONE CLOSED

Conditions at North Street Structure Found Very Bad

BONDS MAY BE FLOATED SOON

Solicitor Asked For Information On Raising Funds

New bridges for Lima at East North street and Elm (Jackson) street are assured by action of Service Director Elmer McClain Wednesday, when he ordered the steel bridge over the stone quarry pit, abandoned and closed the structure to traffic.

Service Director McClain and City Engineer Vaughn Miller inspected condition of Lima bridges Wednesday morning. They found the situation on east North even worse, McClain says, that was at first thought by citizens who complained of the dangerous conditions there making the old bridge a death trap.

"I was surprised conditions were as dangerous as we found them," McClain said. "There is little wonder there has not been loss of life and limb at the old bridge. It should have been closed to traffic months ago," he stated.

Barricades which had been placed at the quarry pit bridge to warn travelers of the dangerous condition had been entirely removed, McClain declared, and there was nothing to show the stranger or traveler the detour path around the bridge.

"With a snow such as the one the other morning, it was easier to drive over the structure than to follow the detour path, which would have been wiped out by the heavy snowfall," McClain said.

He ordered new barricades to be placed at the steel bridge over the pit and posts of the same will be imbedded in cinders. A wire netting stretched on either side will indicate to travelers the bridge is closed. Markers will also be set to show the detour path.

By the action of Service Director McClain Wednesday morning the city may be saved thousands of dollars in a lawsuit, should some person get killed or hurt and also save life and limb, officials said.

The bridge over the river, a few feet from the stone quarry pit bridge, will be repaired. Flooring taken from the Metcalf street bridge will be used for this purpose. This lumber reverts to the use of the city and can be devoted to this use, McClain said. The walk along the bridge will be repaired with timbers from the walk of the Metcalf street bridge.

McClain declares he will prosecute offenders who in any way remove or tamper with the new barricades to be placed at the old steel bridge.

"We found the condition of both the East North street bridge and the Elm (Jackson) street bridge in miserable plight," McClain stated. "I have asked City Solicitor Garling at once, to point out the legislation necessary to float a bond issue for taking care of new bridges at both these streets."

"Until such a time as that," he declared, "the East North street bridge may be used and with the closing of the old steel structure loss of life and limb will hardly be possible with the use of the detour route."

An illustrated article in The Sunday News last Sunday following complaints of the East North Street bridge showing the dangerous conditions was responsible for the investigation.

C. P. Zaritman, street superintendent, accompanied Service Director McClain and Engineer Miller on their trip of inspection.

TO CELEBRATE END OF BOOZE

W. C. T. U. Will Stage Watch Party January 16.

White ribbon women of Lima will hold a watch party Friday night to see the final departure of old John Bealeycourt.

More than 500 women will offer up prayers and thanksgiving because the nation becomes dry at midnight of that day.

The watch-night party was arranged at a meeting of Frances Willard union, Tuesday. They have a membership of 340 women. Loretta Durbin, 756 Greenlawn avenue, is president and Dr. Mabel Dunn Murphy, 619 North Main street, secretary.

Villa Cook union 95 women and Florence Richards union of 65 members will join in the celebration. "It will be a real victory celebration," Mrs. Loretta Durbin, president, said Tuesday night. "It is the thing we have hoped for, prayed for and waited for and now that it has been accomplished, it is worth remaining up all night for," she stated.

Mrs. Durbin will address a victory meeting at Van Wert on Friday afternoon, returning to Lima in time for the watch party here. She will speak at a victory celebration in Grover Hill, Paulding county, Thursday.

Mrs. J. A. McCartney and Mrs. Frank W. Mullehour are members of the committee to secure a place for holding the party. A church will probably be selected, Mrs. Durbin said.

LAFKUS GETS FINE AND SENTENCE

Klinger Orders Drug Addict Sent to Toledo Works.

Frank Lafkus, drug fiend, must serve 60 days in the Toledo work house and pay a fine of $25 and costs.

That was the sentence of Judge William Klinger Tuesday afternoon. Lafkus was found guilty of larceny and the value of the goods placed at $25, by a jury which heard his trial Monday.

Lafkus must remain in the workhouse until the fine and costs are paid, or guaranteed to be paid. Lafkus will be taken to Toledo to enter upon his sentence as soon as he has completed his allotted time of 90 days in the county jail, for having in his possession narcotic drugs. He has not yet served one-third of the time.

Lafkus was indicted by the grand jury in connection with the robbery of the Thompson drug store December 20 when a quantity of morphine tablets and drugs were alleged stolen.

FIVE BIG TRUCKS FOR COUNTY

State Will Supply Machines For Road Work

Allen county is to have five large army trucks to be used in the work of maintenance and repair of the county roads.

A. R. Taylor, state highway commissioner, has written the commissioners, saying the federal government, thru the state highway department, would make an allotment of these trucks to each county.

Allen county commissioners at once voted to have their share of the trucks.

Bernard Halloran, clerk to the county commissioners, Wednesday sent word to the state department asking that two two-ton trucks and three four-ton trucks be sent to Allen county.

The county commissioners called attention to the fine garage recently constructed which would properly house the trucks. They asked for Packard trucks, as Henry Tucker, the county's mechanic, is versed in the construction of these big cars. County commissioners must provide the gravel beds and hoists, costing from $400 to $700 for each truck.

WOMEN SCORE IN NEW BILL

Measure Provides Voting by Women at Presidential Primaries

DENY REFERENDUM VOTE

Will Over-ride Right of Referendum on Reynolds-Fouts Bill

COLUMBUS--Legislators and lawyers were mulling over a new legal problem Wednesday.

Last winter the legislature passed the Reynolds-Fouts bill permitting Ohio women to vote for presidential electors. Opponents of suffrage filed a referendum petition against it and the matter will be voted on this coming November.

Late Tuesday, the senate passed another bill by Reynolds, permitting women to vote in presidential primaries. This bill amends the Reynolds-Fouts bill which is now in the hands of the people awaiting a referendum vote.

If the new Reynolds bill, which will go to Governor Cox within a few days, becomes a law, it is expected to deny the people their right of a referendum vote on the Reynolds-Fouts bill.

It is being pointed out by friends of the initiative and referendum that if the Reynolds bill should be upheld eventually by supreme court, that a new method would be opened up to prevent referendums.

Reynolds is one of the legislature's strongest I and R men.

The house late Tuesday defeated the Myers' rent bill, aimed at rent profiteers. The vote was 47 for and 22 against. The bill lacked the required constitutional majority.

Myers' bill compelled landlords to give tenants 15 days' notice before eviction, instead of three days as is now the law.

Opposition to the bill developed in the house because many members pointed out, the bill only provided a lever for "dead beat" tenants and did not strike at the profiteers.

The $4,386,956 due to various political subdivisions of the state and now jingling in the pockets of former and present officials may again be brought into public treasuries, according to the provisions of the Cable bill which has passed the legislature and was on the governor's desk Wednesday.

Findings for $4,435,604 have been made against public officials of the various counties by the state bureau of accounting since its establishment in 1902. Of this amount, only $2,048,648 has been recovered.

MAP WILL SHOW CITY'S REALTY

Engineer Making Chart to Locate 200 Bits of Land

Lima owns about two hundred pieces of real estate scattered over and about the city.

Among these is Lima lake and other smaller portions. There has never been a map to indicate the exact location of this real estate.

Service Director McClain ordered City Engineer Vaughn Miller Wednesday to draw a map, showing the amount and location of these pieces of land.

A key will be provided so that even the most unskilled to the city can locate its property. "The work is to be done by the city engineer at such times as he is not otherwise engaged," Miller began the work Wednesday forenoon while there was little doing in his office.

NO CAUSE FOUND IN DAMAGE SUIT

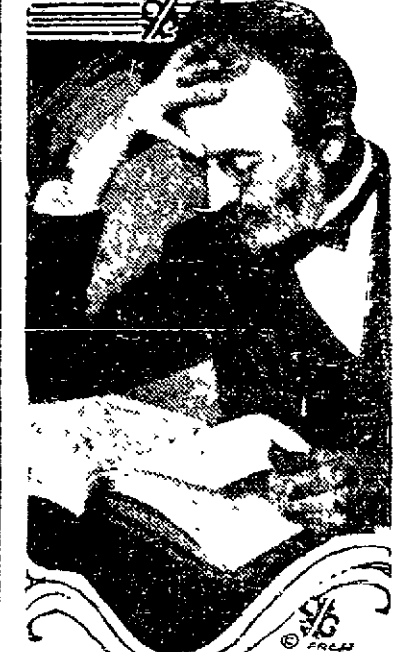

Jury Returns Verdict in Morton Case After 25 Minutes.

The jury which heard the trial of S. W. Morton, newspaper solicitor, Lima, against Police Chief W. C. Thompson, Delphos, required just twenty-five minutes to reach a verdict of no cause of action Tuesday afternoon.

Morton sued Thompson for $1,000 damages, charging false imprisonment on the day the signing of the armistice was first told. While Delphos was jollifying, Morton would have them believe the signing of the armistice was a fake, so Chief Thompson declared.

The officer related on the witness stand he placed Morton in jail to prevent bodily injury to him from the crowds and because he feared he would incite a riot.

EXPECT MEXICAN CLASH SOON

Federal Troops Being Rushed to Sonora to Suppress Outbreak

REPORT REVOLT PLANNED

Obregon's Supporters to Win Him Presidency, May Start Trouble

WASHINGTON--Mexican federal troops are being rushed to the state of Sonora to "suppress the popularity of General Alvaro Obregon," candidate for the presidency, according to unofficial advices from the border received here Wednesday.

Obregon is a candidate in opposition to Carranza. The message said Carranza was about to put the state under martial law, that he had ordered several battalions of troops to the scene and that his forces were reported already disembarking at Guaymas on the Gulf of California.

Carranza, in sending troops, declared that "a state of lawlessness" existed in Sonora, according to the dispatch.

Sonora, which is Obregon's home state, borders on Arizona and the Gulf of California. Sentiment in favor of Obregon has been on the increase there for some time, advices said. The state troops, suspected by the federal government of being too favorable to Obregon, will probably be disbanded, according to the dispatch and Governor De La Huerta, who supports Obregon for the presidency, will be supplanted by General Pesquiera, a member of Carranza's party.

There have been repeated rumors recently that Obregon was planning a revolt against Carranza, if it became apparent that the latter would not give him a fair chance to be elected president.

Dead Scattered in Streets As Machine Guns Begin Firing On Crowd--Troops Called To Disperse Mobs As Revolution Hinges

Women Trampled In Mad Dash of Radicals To Flee from Hail of Bullets from Soldiers and Police--Rioting Is Widespread

BERLIN--A state of siege has been proclaimed throughout Germany with the exception of Wurtemberg, Saxony and Bavaria, as a result of widespread riots.

The proclamation was issued by President Ebert late Tuesday.

Scores have been killed in riots in Berlin and more than 100 men and women wounded.

The fighting occurred when police and soldiers attempted to disperse a great mob which had formed in front of the reichstag building. Hand grenades were used by the police with fearful results.

The mob began gathering shortly after noon in response to requests for a demonstration against pending labor legislation in the reichstag.

At first, the meeting was orderly. Then radical speakers so inflamed the people they attempted to rush the reichstag. The fighting followed. Less than a score of guards were about the building, but they hurriedly called reinforcements.

Machine guns were brought into use. The greatest confusion followed. Many women were trampled as the great crowds attempted to escape the hail of bullets from the soldiers and police. Dead and wounded littered the great square in front of the reichstag.

Mob leaders commandeered taxicabs to carry off the injured. Streets and the steps in front of the reichstag were smeared with blood of the dead.

The outbreak was believed to be a direct result of the policy of allowing peaceful demonstrations. Many leaders pointed out it would have been impossible for the town hall, destroying the archives. Similar riots occurred in villages in the Hamburg district.

Agitation began some time ago when the railway strike was declared. There were rumors at that time the radicals planned a general strike designed to overthrow the government.

The word of the fighting was over by 4 o'clock but new outbreaks continued to straggle thru the streets. The red flag was in evidence in some quarters.

The immediate outburst, it was said, was consideration of a measure to create factory councils by the reichstag. It grew out of the widespread demands of radicals for communization of industry.

Independent socialists complained the measure did not meet the workers' needs and an appeal was published in Die Freiheit, calling for a demonstration.

Members were asked to meet in front of the reichstag at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. After the rioting, some union leaders said the newspaper's appeal was not authorized.

HOSTILITY SHOWN STORE CROOKS

The employment of the detectives James Morton, Secretary of the Merchants association believes "has the local merchants will be more free from theft of every variety than they have for many years."

SMILE DOWNFALL OF RICHARDS

Mysterious Person is Trapped by Toledo Woman

LAST CONTEST HERE TODAY

Public Soon to Learn Identity of Baffler

Mrs. Watt Smith, 2425 Chase street, Toledo, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oren Long, 541 east Eureka street, Lima, is the second person to identify the Great Richards, who is now appearing at the Orpheum in the guise of a man. She made the identification at Ellerman's store, directly across from the Orpheum theatre at 5:03 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, on the second floor of the store, in the overcoat department.

And, because of her recognition, Mrs. Smith is the recipient of the second batch of three handsome presents — a ten-dollar merchandise order from Ellerman's, a three-month subscription to the Lima Daily News and ten first class admission tickets from the Orpheum theatre.

"I'm glad I won, not so much because of the three presents I have received," said Mrs. Smith, "but because of the personal gratification of being the victor in a battle of wits. I surely will appreciate The Lima Daily News subscription, because I have only recently moved to Toledo from Lima and now I can keep posted on what all the folks are doing at home. The News will keep me from getting homesick or lonesome, I'm sure."

RECOGNIZED MOUTH

Mrs. Watt Smith says: "I had seen the Great Richards at the B. F. Keith theatre in Toledo. I went to the matinee at the Orpheum Tuesday, first, because I wanted to see this wonderful act again. Secondly, because I wanted to refresh my memory on every detail of the artist, so that I might make the identification at Ellerman's. When I saw the Great Richards at Ellerman's I watched this person intently. Suddenly the Great Richards smiled. Then the recognition was complete. It was the same faint smile I noted during the presentation of the act on the stage."

It is estimated that more than five hundred persons thronged the two floors of the Ellerman store Tuesday. The crowd began to gather about 2 o'clock, early comers desiring to inspect all means of entrance, so as to post themselves in likely places. But the big crowd arrived immediately after the matinee at the Orpheum, when practically the entire big audience moved in a body from the theatre across the street to the store. Then the search for the Great Richards began. Folks looked in every nook and cranny, behind packing cases and counter and in almost every conceivable place.

HOW RICHARDS FOOLED THEM
There were a number of splendid bargains to be had at Ellerman's, too.

In various articles of men's apparel. The Great Richards was in the act of purchasing a suit of clothes, when identified, after having made the entire tour of the store un-noticed. It will make good reading after the Great Richards is gone to tell how this mysterious person fooled so many people, why not thirty minutes before had studied and attempted to solve the identity of the artist, aided by the brilliance of the spotlight thrown upon the figure upon the stage.

At the Orpheum, the Great Richards appears as a radiantly beautiful woman, presenting one of the most magnificently staged and gorgeously costumed dancing acts ever seen in Lima.

The third and last public appearance in the guise of a man is scheduled to be made by the Great Richards this afternoon between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock at the Hoover-Bond furniture and household goods store on Public Square. The largest crowd of the engagement is expected to be at the Hoover-Bond establishment this afternoon.

To the first person making the identification of the Great Richards this afternoon at Hoover-Bond's three more splendid presents will be given. The Hoover-Bond Company will give a merchandise order good for $15 in any way the holder wishes to apply it. The Lima Daily News will give the third three-month subscription presented during the contest. The Orpheum theatre will give the third batch of ten first class admission tickets, offered during the search for the mysterious stranger.

In addition to the many wonderful bargains offered in household articles of general need, persons visiting the Hoover-Bond store will find a splendid and thrilling adventure awaiting them — especially if they capture the Great Richards.

GIVE BOX PARTIES
At the matinee at the Orpheum theatre Tuesday, Miss Pauline Allen, who identified the Great Richards at Blum's Monday gave a box party, using the ten tickets she received for recognizing the great artist. At the Orpheum this afternoon, Mrs. Smith, who recognized the visitor at Ellerman's Tuesday, is the host at a box party on the ten tickets she received.

That the contest which comes to a close today has been a splendid success in every wise is attested by the crowded houses which have marked every performance at the Orpheum thus far this week and by the number of persons who have sought to capture the Great Richards at the two stores at which appearances in the guise of a man have been made.

It will be disclosed at the Orpheum tonight whether the Great Richards is man or woman. The disclosure will be made in such manner that there will be no doubt left.

NOTICE
On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Lela Cavanaugh.

FAST WORK SAVES BUILDING

Had Indigestion and Nervousness Praises Nuxite

"A disordered stomach and run-down system has troubled me for a number of years," said Mr. Bracker who resides at 21 Niagara Avenue, Dayton, Ohio, continuing, he said, "This condition was manifested by a weak feeling in my stomach, accompanied by that tired, listless, half sick feeling which goes with a weakened run-down system. I kept going, and thought that in time I would be able to wear the trouble out, but it seems to get worse instead, and finally caused me to become extremely nervous as well."

"Before I began using Nuxite, I had noticed a great deal about in the newspapers, and I had become convinced that it was a new kind of a medicine, entirely different from the many different kinds which I had seen advertised so much in the newspapers."

Finally a friend of mine insisted that I give Nuxite a trial, and on his advice I purchased my first bottle of Nuxite. After taking the first bottle, I noticed a marked improvement in my condition. Since then I have kept a supply of Nuxite in my traveling bag during all of my travels throughout the state. I cheerfully recommend this remedy to any one who suffers from a condition similar to mine, for I know this new medicine is different from anything I ever tried before, and I think so much of it that I always keep a supply of Nuxite on hand."

Nuxite, the new reconstructive tonic and system builder, may be obtained at Hunter's Public Square Drug Store. For sale by S. E. Lewis, Columbus Grove, Ohio; Theo. Stewart, St. Marys, Ohio.

YOUTH PINES FOR ENGLISH BRIDE

Sends Plea to London for Wife from Britain.

LONDON — Judging by the vigor with which they sing the choruses, quite a lot of English girls are simply pining to get "way down into one or other of the United States of America."

Sometimes it's Tennessee. And they change their minds and long for dear old Dixie. And when neither of these comes off they switch on to their old Kentucky home. And wherever it is it must be "way down."

"Way up is no good at all."

But what's the matter with dear old Louisiana? Doesn't anybody want to be "way down in Louisiana?"

"Any lady?" as Harry Wellton says.

The reason we ask is that there is a nice young man — (Stand back there! Give us air! Don't all speak at once. He isn't a Mormon. We said Louisiana, not Salt Lake City) — there is a nice young man "way down in Louisiana who wants to get married to an English girl."

This forlorn swain has written to the London Star stating his qualifications, bank balance, references and previous experience, and on the whole it looks like a pretty sound proposition.

He addresses his love letter "To the young ladies and widows of England," and begins this wholesale proposal thus:

"I am soliciting a correspondence with you. In view of congenial companionship of marriage I wish to state that I am 36 years old, have never been married, a brunette, 5 feet 9 inches tall, weigh 180 pounds; genuine American, dating back three generations."

Evidently the goods are good. As he would say himself: "Some spouse, kid!"

One hundred and eighty pounds of brunette husband going begging! . . . Any lady? But let him continue:

"Scotch and Irish descent fare education, good health, no deformities. Vocation was to be of 23 stock and farm work. Since then health, accident and life insurance. Earnings $150 per month. Savings about $1200."

There is a picture for you! Notice how frank he is. Only a fare education. Nothing exciting and no deformities.

Evidently there is a good heart beating underneath the rugged exterior of our 180 pound Scotch-Irish-American brunette insurance agent.

"I am strictly Protestant," he says. Sound in the wind and limbs and morals. $1200 in his stockings.

What more can a girl want?

That is all he tells us about himself, and only makes us hanker for more. Before passing the proposal to our readers we think it only fair that we should know

1. What he spends on chewing per week.

2. Whether he prefers plug to gum.

3. If he suffers from cold feet.

4. Whether there are any houses to let in the district.

5. If he will chop the kindling and do chores.

6. Whether they jazz "way down in Louisiana."

The last half of his letter describes just the sort of wife he wants.

"My desire," he says, "is a girl between the ages of 25 and 35 years old."

She must be Protestant and small in size. Blond preferred. (Peroxide is cheap today.)

"With fare education." As long as it's as fare as the brunette's that will do.

"A picture will be appreciated." Evidently the young man is taking no chances. He knows that a girl can be 35, Protestant, blond and small in size, and still have a face like a bad dream.

Last of all, "Write soon," he says. Down, little flutterm! Be still, his heart, and please don't all speak at once.

For the third and last time, going, going—any lady?

LIQUOR MUST BE TAKEN HOME

Dwelling Only Safe Place if Report Not Made.

WASHINGTON — Persons having in storage houses, safe deposits and other places "legally acquired" intoxicating liquor, must remove it to their dwelling before January 17, under rule issued today by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

"Legally acquired liquor," it is said, "is liquor bought prior to July 1, 1919."

If liquor is found in places other than private dwellings and Government warehouses after February 1, and a report of its possession has not been made to the Bureau, it will be subject to seizure.

Proprietors of storage places, where liquor is held subject to the order of the owner, are required to make a report on or before January 17.

Failure of the report, nevertheless, will subject the liquor to seizure.

Hotels, holding liquor for service to guests for beverage purposes, the ruling states, cannot possess it on and after January 17, but may obtain a permit to sell it for non-beverage purposes in which event a bond must be filed.

Residents of hotels and boarding houses may keep "legally acquired" liquor either in their rooms or in lockers, over which they have complete and exclusive control.

Persons possessing legally acquired liquor for their own use, or for family and guest are not required to make a report, the commissioner says.

RAILWAY WORKERS PLAN SEIZURE OF ROME ROADS

ROME.—Extremists among the dissatisfied railway workers Sunday openly advocated seizure of the roads. An agreement between the roads and the government appeared improbable. All concessions offered by the government have been rejected.

The situation has been complicated by refusal of postoffice, telephone and telegraph workers to accept the government's offer.

RENEW ATTEMPTS TO REINSTATE SOCIALISTS

ALBANY, N. Y. — Democrats were expected to renew their attempts Tuesday to force reinstatement of the suspended socialist assemblymen.

After the assembly had voted Monday night 71 to 33 against adoption of a motion to reconsider last week's action in suspending the socialists, Joseph McKee, Democrat from New York City, served notice he would move to amend the rules Tuesday so the entire assembly would be constituted a committee to examine the charges to be brought against the socialists.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

"TO DO A MILLION AND A HALF IN 1920"

"THE PALISER CASE"

BY EDGAR SALTUS

Copyright 1919 by the Wheeler Syndicate Every Evening in the News.

Y OUR very obedient servant, madam."

With that and a fine bow, Dunwoodie greeted Cassy when Jones had succeeded in getting her into the inner and airy office. The old ruffian drew a chair.

"Do me the honor."

Cassy sat down. What a funny old man, she thought.

Jones addressed the door, remarking dreamily: "Pensive life, I will renew my acquaintance with Swineburne's 'Espousals'."

Dunwoodie glared. "You will find it in the library." Then he sat down, folded his hands on his waistcoat and smiled at Cassy. "Nice day."

"Very."

"Down here often?"

Cassy shook her doctored hair. "No, and I don't at all know why I am here now. I do know though, and I may as well tell you at once, I have no intention of making a fuss."

Dunwoodie's smile, a smile quasi-ogrisch, semi-paternal, expanded. "If our Potsdam friend only resembled you!"

For a young woman so recently and doubly bereaved, Cassy's blue smock and yellow skirt seemed to him properly subdued. Moreover, from a word that Jones had dropped he realized that wealth had not presided at their selection.

He twirled his thumbs. "But let me ask, what may your full name be?"

"Blanca Carr."

"Hum! Ha! Most becoming. And how young are you?"

Well, I like that, thought Cassy, who answered: "Twenty-one."

Dunwoodie crossed his legs. "You think me an impertinent old man, I don't mean to be impertinent. I take a great interest in you."

"Very good of you, I'm sure."

"Not at all. Is your grandmother living?"

"For heaven's sake! You did not know her, did you?"

"No, but I stand ready to take her place."

"You would find it difficult. She is buried in Portugal."

"The place of your grandfather then, the place of any one whom you can trust."

"But why?"

"Well, let me ask. What are your plans?"

"My plans." Mr. Jones asked me that. I have a sort of a voice and I

Is It "Just a Cold?"

Lima People Should Ask Themselves This Question.

Don't say: "It's just a cold."

It may turn into backache, rheumatic aches, achy joints.

Or other serious sickness that comes from weak kidneys.

Colds are due to congestion.

Congestion makes the kidneys over-work to filter the blood.

Colds often leave the kidneys weak.

First break the cold;

Then use Doan's Kidney Pills to avert the kidney dangers.

Let this Lima resident tell you about them.

Mrs. Margaret Griffin, 529 E. North St., "Last winter I caught a cold which settled on my kidneys and I had nagging pains across my kidneys. Nights I couldn't find a comfortable position. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and before long my kidneys were acting as they should and the backache was entirely gone. I think they are wonderful.

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Griffin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

nose was before her. She was wondering whether it would scent out for her an engagement.

"However," Dunwoodie, twisting the edge of his towel, continued, various amendments were afterward adopted and certain sections repealed. Among the latter was the one containing the prohibition which I have cited. In my opinion, it was not the intention of the legislature to repeal it. Yet, however that may be, repealed it was. Since then, or, more exactly, a few weeks ago, the enactments regarding the manner in which marriage must be solemnized were held to be not mandatory but directory, the result being that the law originally prevailing has now come again into operation, common-law marriages are as valid as before and—"

Here Dunwoodie flaunted the towel.

"And you are Mrs. Paliser."

Of the entire proposition Cassy heard but that. It ousted the agent and his fabulous nose. She bristled.

"I can't be. I don't want to be. You don't seem to see that the clergyman was not a clergyman at all. He was one of the help there. I thought I told you. Why, there was not even a license! That man said he had one. It was only another of the whimsicalities that took me in."

Dunwoodie repocketing the towel, showed his teeth. "A young gentleman who dreams in Latin, and who was brought up on the Revised Statutes, must be familiar with Byron. 'Men were deceivers ever.' Not long ago, a Lovelace whose history is given in the New York Reports conducted himself in a manner that would be precisely analogous to that of your late husband were it not that, instead of dying, he did what was less judicious, he married again — and was sent up for bigamy. He also entertained a lady with a fancy ball. None the less, the Supreme Court decided that he had legally tied the matrimonial noose about him and that decision the Court of Appeals affirmed."

Cassy shook her pretty self. "Well, even so, I don't see what difference it makes, now at any rate. He is dead and that is the end of it."

"Hum! Not entirely. As widow you are entitled to share in such property as your late husband possessed. How much or how little, he did possess, I cannot say. But I assume that such share of it as may accrue, will be — ha! — adequate for you."

"But he hadn't anything. He told me so."

"He didn't always tell you the truth though, did he? In any event it is probable that he left enough to provide for your maintenance."

Cassy threw up her hands. "Never in the world."

Dunwoodie again ran his eyes over the severity of her costume. "You think it would be inadequate?"

But Cassy was angry. "I don't think anything about it. Whether it would or not, be adequate, does not make the slightest difference. I won't take it."

"Ha! And why not?"

Cassy fumed. "Why not? But isn't it evident? That man had no intention of marrying me, no intention whatever of leaving me a cent."

"As it happens, he did both."

Cassy clenched her small fist. "No matter. He did not intend to and don't you see if I were to accept a happiness of his wretched money, I would be benefiting by a crime for which may God forgive, my poor, dear father."

There was a point which the legislature had not considered, which not one of all the New York Reports construed, a point not of law but of conscience, a point for a tribunal other than that which sits in banco. It floored Dunwoodie.

Damnation, she's splendid, he decided, as, mentally, he picked himself up. But it would never do to say so and he turned on her his famous look.

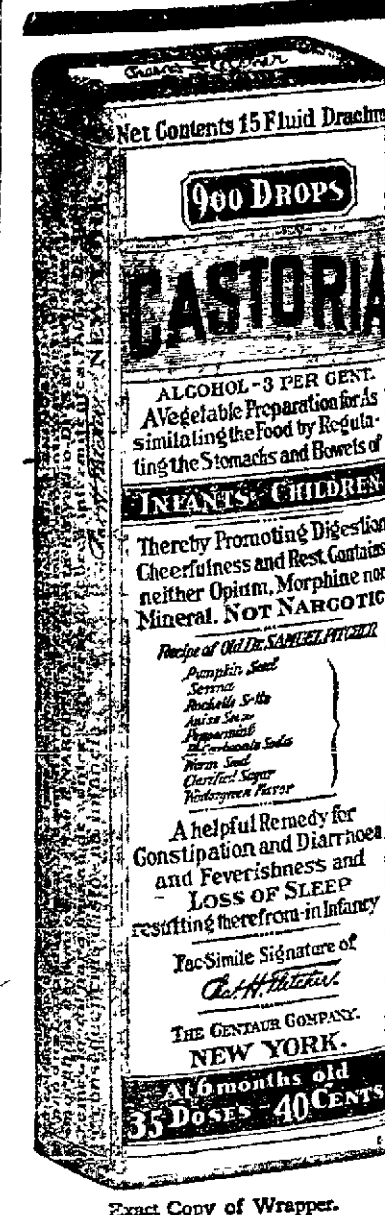

"Madam, once your marriage is established the money becomes rightfully and legally yours, unless—"

With that look he was frowning at this handsome girl who took law and order with such a high hand. But behind the frown was a desire which he restrained, to hug her.

"Mr. Rymple, sir, says he has an appointment."

The old ruffian, rising, turned to

Cassy. "One moment, if you please. (To Be Continued.)"

The railroads are indispensable to our whole economic life, and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions.

WOODROW WILSON

THE war could not have been won without railroads. Transport—by rail and sea—is an indispensable arm of national defense.

Carrying capacity, from the wheat fields and the mines and the steel mills to the front lines in France, was the measure of our power in war.

And it is the measure of our power in peace.

Industrial expansion—increasing national prosperity—greater world trade—are vitally dependent on railroad growth.

The limit to the productive power of this country is the limit set by railroad capacity to haul the products of our industry.

The amount of freight carried on American rails doubled from 1897 to 1905—since that year it has doubled again.

It will double still again.

To haul this rapidly growing traffic the country must have more railroads—more cars and engines—more tracks and terminals.

Sound national legislation, broad-visioned public regulation, will encourage the expansion of railroads, without which the nation cannot grow.

WALLACE REFUSES COUNCIL'S OFFER

Conference Rules U. S. Will Get Only 2 Percent of Business

PARIS — The supreme council of the peace conference Tuesday notified Hugh Wallace, American ambassador, that its decision to award the United States only two percent of the German shipping to be distributed among the allied and associated powers, was unchanged. Wallace immediately replied that the United States preferred to waive its claim entirely. The conference reported the Hungarian treaty without modifications Tuesday. It refused the Serbian request that the Creations be recognized as a separate entity within Hungary. Following these actions the council virtually passed out of existence. It was decided to refer all questions in future to a committee of ambassadors. The council also decided to publish the minutes of the conference.

UNDERTAKERS ASK RETURN OF DEAD

Serious Charge Made as Movement to Return Dead Progresses

WASHINGTON.—Charges that an alleged "undertakers lobby" is behind the movement to have bodies of American soldiers returned will be investigated by the senate military affairs committee. Senator Thomas, Colorado, today cited charges made by members of the Gold Star Mothers, that undertakers are behind the movement and asked that the committee investigate. "If these charges are true, it is an attempt to commercialize the sentiment of those who lost relatives in the war," Thomas said. "It is a matter that should be investigated." Thomas added that if bodies can be brought back consistently, with the policy of France, it should be done. Representative of organizations in different parts of the country urging return of the American dead from France made personal appeals to the house military affairs committee to pass the resolution directing the president to take immediate action along this line. After the hearing, Chairman Porter, Pennsylvania, introduced a resolution providing "that the president be and is hereby authorized to proceed forthwith wherever the same has been requested by the next of kin, to exhume and transport to America for reinterment in such cemeteries as may be designated by next of kin, the bodies of all persons now buried in foreign countries who gave their lives in the late war in the service of the United States or in the service of the allies." In cases where the relatives desire to care for the bodies they will be turned over to them after reaching this country. Otherwise the bodies will be buried in some national cemetery, possibly Arlington. American soldier dead outside France number 5,186. In France 71,000 American dead are buried. Of these 18,800 are outside the zone of the armies. These bodies will be returned to this country whenever desired by relatives. Otherwise they will be concentrated at the American cemetery at Suresnes near Paris. The disposition of bodies within the zone of the armies has not been determined. France has prohibited removal of these bodies but the state department is trying to have this ban lifted.

DEMAND IMMINENT FOR KAISER

Request for 500 Accused Germans Soon to Be Made

PARIS.—Demand upon Holland for extradition of the former kaiser is imminent, the Matin said Tuesday. A list of 500 accused Germans, including Frederick Wilhelm, the former crown prince, will be handed the Berlin government within a fortnight, the newspaper said, with demands that Germany turn the accused over to allied military leaders in the Rhine provinces. Premier Lloyd George has abandoned his policy of demanding expulsion of the kaiser from Germany, it was understood Tuesday. As a result of early conversation of the "big three," the British premier was said to favor leaving the kaiser in Constantinople.

LOWDEN URGES ECONOMY IN NEW YORK SPEECH

NEW YORK.—Strict economy even "niggardliness" on the part of public officials in transacting the business of the government, was proposed by Governor Lowden, Illinois, before the New York City Barbers Monday night, as a means of lessening the burden of our national debt. "You do not take enough interest in public affairs," he said. "There is no other business so vastly important. It is the one thing in which we have not been efficient."

Our Anarchists.

IT IS WORTH while to pause for a moment and think, not so much of the criminality as of the unspeakable insolence and effrontery of the foreign reformers of America. They came over not when Russia had undertaken to light mankind to the new haven of Bolshevism, but years ago when their country was in the black night of Tsarist tyranny. Were we not so accustomed to the phenomenon, we should feel that for them to come here not to learn but to teach, not to help but to destroy, was a thing which only the inhabitants of Bedlam could look upon as normal or permissible.

IN THEIR OWN minds, they may be idealists of the purest water; and so is many a poor inmate of the insane asylum. They are not insane, however, except as any man is insane who does not recognize the limitations which decency or modesty places upon his acts as a member of the society which entertains him.

OUR COUNTRY falls short, to be sure, of its own ideals; and in many points it falls short of standards that other countries have attained. But these very people chose it because on the whole it is the best that mankind has thus far found itself able to beget; and it has been the very fount and origin of the liberal ideas that have gradually been overspreading the world, and the absence of which from their own country was the source of their revolt.

IT IS A MAWKISH sentimentality that admires the old idealism of these creatures' thought, and is blind to the naked indecency of their conduct.

A Little Sunshine.

WE WERE HIGHLY pleased the other day when we noticed some of the things an evangelist said about editors in general. He paid a fine tribute to the followers of this profession and made us feel that at least the whole world didn't think editors were merely for the public to kick at and around.

THAT SUGGESTION the dispenser of Gospel made to the public concerning inviting editors out once in a while like they do preachers and feeding them yellow leg chicken made a decided hit with us. However, we believe the public didn't take kindly to the suggestion for nary an invite has there been since the preacher made his bold remark.

EDITORS MAKE mistakes, some a great many of them. They are only human. When one stops to consider the number of people to be pleased it is remarkable that they get along as well as they do. They get the most of the bumps and when a little praise comes along it certainly brightens things up. Thanks, Mr. Evangelist!

ONLY PERSONS who speak faultless English will be employed by the government in the Philippines. This seems to bar all New Englanders, Southerners, Westerners, Middle Westerners and New Yorkers. They may have to depend entirely on the Filipinos.

Millions In It.

AMBITIOUS young men picking a profession these days are divided between the lure of the lucrative chore of rolling steel at $15 a day, or the appeal of ship riveting at $1.50 an hour.

WE ADVISE ambitious youths, who desire to amass fortune with a minimum of effort, not to pass up the opportunities lying loose in the junk field.

UNTIL THE WAR our idea of a junk man was one who tended to his business in a broken-backed, springless hack, drawn by an equally broken and springless nag.

"ANY RAGS, bottles, sacks or old clothes today, lady?" was his battle cry, and if prosperity attended his efforts he concealed all traces of it.

BUT NOW it is different.

WE NOTICED recently where a junk man engaged in a deal with Uncle Sam; a deal in steel and equipment, and the amount involved was estimated at between $12,000,000 and $21,000,000; a sufficient spread, we surmise, to excite the most ambitious.

ONE TIME the far-sighted youth looked forward to law, to medicine, to the banking field for his life's work, but today the boys who are seeking the quick-money jobs are dodging the professions and the white-collar commercial establishments, and are going into the skilled trades, or in new business like aerial transportation, submarine salvage, or tractor engineering and salesmanship.

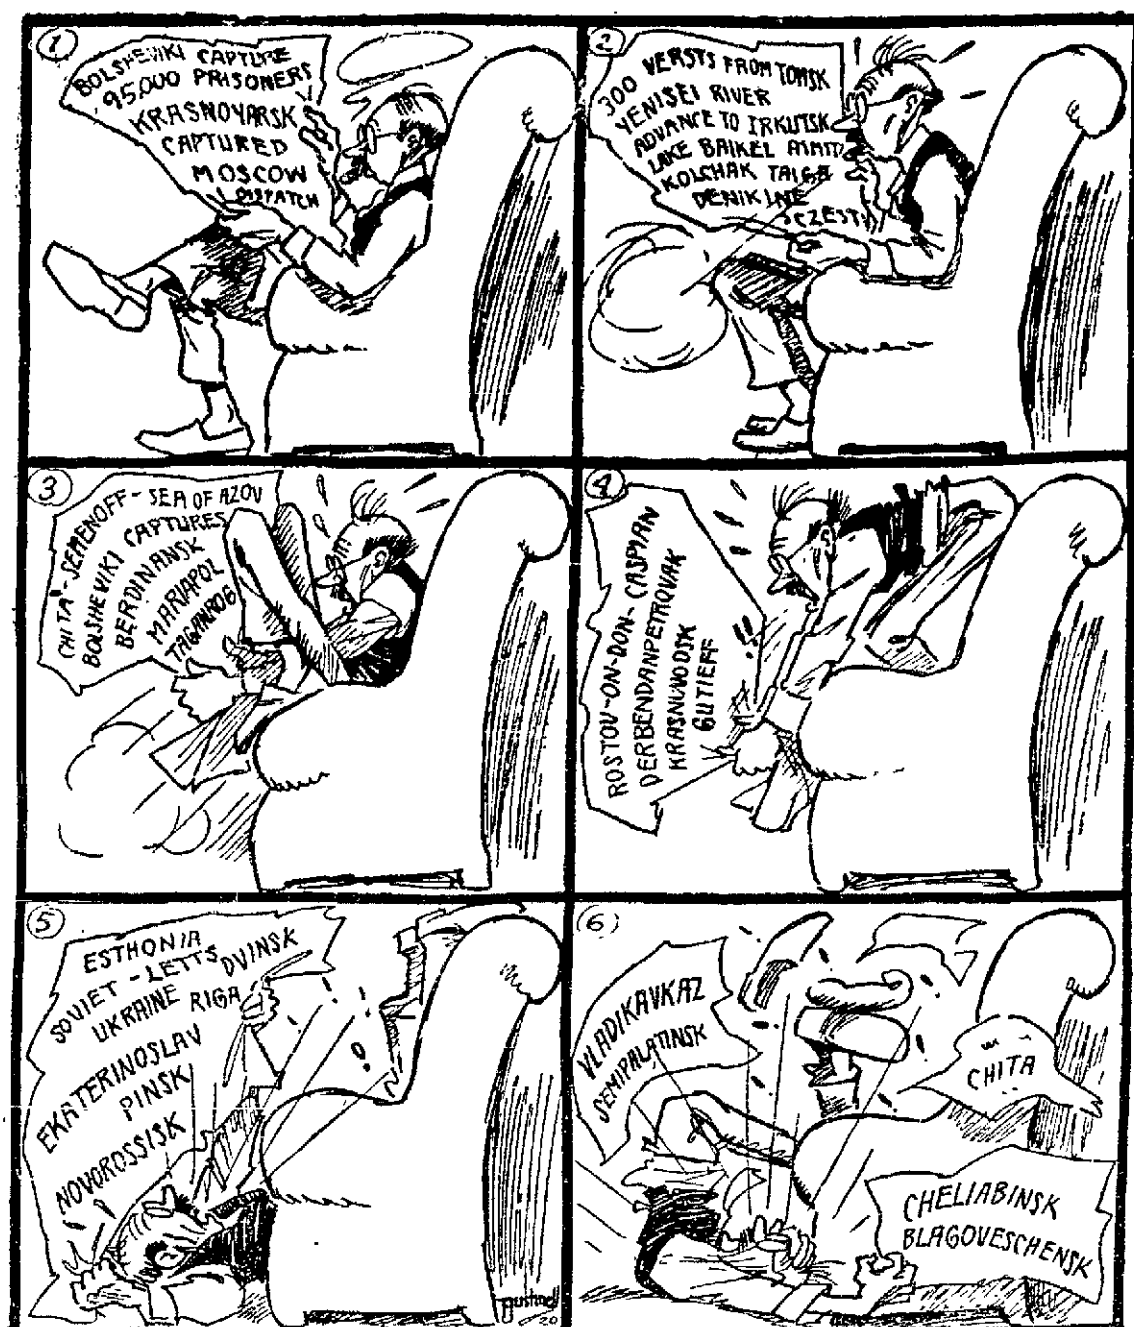

There Still Is War.

MOST OF US are inclined to believe that the world is at peace, at least technically. We all know the United States senate has played politics to the extent that we have not ratified the treaty with Germany, which means we are still at war, but aside from this there is a real war being fought in frozen Russia.

MEN ARE arrayed against each other for the purpose of annihilating each other and the magnitude of the operations is shown in dispatches of a day or two ago stating that one side captured 60,000 men; took great quantities of guns and ammunition and other booty. The dispatch read like official announcements of some major offensive of two years ago. The red government is negotiating for peace with the various European powers and at present is attempting to prevent a general upheaval in Italy, declaring that such an act would be a severe blow to its chances. No, the world is far from being at peace.

THE HIGH COST of living seems to have abolished polygamy in Utah.

Presidential Candidates

A. M. PALMER

He Runs on His Record

WASHINGTON — There is one man among the many presidential aspirants here who will make the race on what he has done. That man is A. M. Palmer, attorney general.

The general impression is that Palmer's present activities are all conducted with a double-barreled object—that he is aiming as much at setting up a record to forward his presidential aspirations as he is at solving the problems confronting his department.

"We must deal with the native radical and agitator," some rival candidate suggests.

"Certainly," says Palmer. "Pass the sedition law I have submitted to Congress. Then I'll do the rest."

"Selfish interests must be controlled," another announces.

"Exactly!" Says Palmer again.

"Look what I did to the peckers."

"The profiteers must be curbed

ly color blind, unable to recognize color, seeing everything in varying degrees of gray—which is not a color.

Inability to distinguish red and green is the most frequent. Individuals may be born with this inability inherited almost invariably from the mother. While color-blind males almost never have color-blind children, their daughters married to men of normal stock will have color-blind sons.

This transmission of the defect reminds us that bleeders show the same peculiarity of heredity.

Color-blindness may be acquired by one with normal heredity. Any disease which causes change in the retina or sensitive film of the back of the eye may produce it, and any poison which causes irritation or degeneration of the optic nerve may produce it. Alcohol, moderately used, and tobacco, used before mature development (before the age of twenty-five years) may produce color-blindness. In this acquired color-blindness, which is often curable, the oculist, (one c. l. beg of you, George) generally finds the ordinary vision impaired also, by the disease underlying in congenital or hereditary color-blindness, which is not curable, the oculist finds no other defect of vision, and the eyes are not diseased.

Usually those who are red-green color-blind are unaware of it until a test is made, preferably by having the individual pick out all the skins from a heterogeneous pile of colored skins of yarn to match one of the chief colors (green or red). When he begins to add blues and browns and grays to the green sample or the red sample, he is obviously not a safe person to run an engine, pilot a boat or travel in Ireland.

I am in the habit of pinning a tub of red water and letting my eighteen-month-old baby paddle in it naked. She comes in unmercifully for from five to thirty minutes every day. Ice Cream Man
Thought That Time Had Come

Had Acute Indigestion and Suffered For Three Days and Nights Without Relief Now Swears by Tanlac

It is doubtful if there is a better known or more highly respected man in Knoxville, Tenn., than C. M. Smith, popularly known by his friends as "Cal" Smith. Mr. Smith has been prominently identified with the ice cream business in this city for a number of years and holds a responsible position with the Mono Ice Cream company.

Like lots of other folks Mr. Smith had tried various other remedies without obtaining relief and had virtually lost all faith in medicine at the time he tried Tanlac. His statement follows:

"About one month ago I had a very severe attack of what my doctor described as acute indigestion and for several days I was a very sick man. It was the first attack of this kind I ever had in my life and I can truthfully say I hope I will never have another one."

"Shortly after eating one day I began to experience a very full and uncomfortable feeling in my stomach and in only a short time my stomach swelled up so full of gas I could hardly get my breath. My feet and hands got cold and clammy and my pulse was very dizzy. I don't know when I ever felt that way before. I just felt like I would give anything in the world if I could get one long, deep breath."

"I thought this condition would pass off in a few hours, and I would soon be alright again, but got worse instead of better and I decided to consult a doctor. He said I was suffering from acute indigestion and gave me a prescription, but the medicine failed to do me any good whatsoever. After suffering for three days and nights I went back to see him and told him I was compelled to leave some relief. He said, 'Well if the medicine I am giving you don't help you, I don't know what will.' A friend of mine told me about Tanlac, and I had already heard so much about the medicine I decided to try it."

"I then went down to Kuhlman's and bought a bottle and began taking it at once. This was on the third day. Well, sir, you can believe me or not but I began to improve from the very first. It just seemed to be the very thing I needed and before I had taken a third of a bottle I felt like a new man. By the end of the week I had forgotten all about my indigestion and was eating and sleeping the same as ever. I went back the other day and got another bottle for this is one medicine I want to always have in the house."

"This Tanlac beats anything I ever saw. I was down to Le Noir City the other day and told a lot of my friends about it, and they also told me it was having a big sale down there. Nearly everybody in my whole neighborhood is taking Tanlac and they all are praising it. If anybody wants to know about my case I will be glad to answer any questions at any time."

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggists in every town.

BLUEM'S

(3RD FLOOR)

AS YOU LIKE IT

Way back before Columbus discovered America, even before Arizona became the second (alphabetically) state in the union, a young hopeful, who was never known to remain where he was put, was bitten by the wanderlust microbes and emigrated.

This youngster conceived the notion that home was no place to stay. So he went.

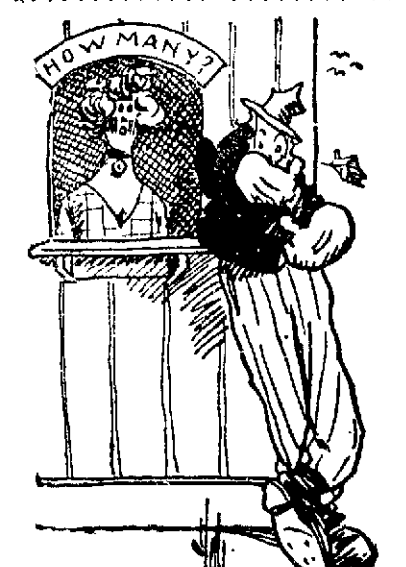

He ran up against some pretty hard and rough bumps. The going was not as smooth as it had looked. And he came back, all ragged, and hungry, and fed up on the outside world.

His papa saw him coming and instead of hawing it for the old strap hustled out to kill the famous fatted calf.

His mother was tickled to have the boy come back home, rags and hunger and all. That's just like a father, isn't it?

But time ran on and they carved a path over the ocean and across the continent and laid railroad rails clear to Arizona.

HEALTH ADVICE

By William Brady, M. D.

Color Blindness

There is no color in nature. What we call red is a sensation in the retina or sensitive film in the back of the eye produced by the longest light waves, and what we call orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet are sensations produced by light waves shorter and shorter in length. When the waves become too short for the eye to register, its invisible power is still capable of causing chemical changes in the body and outside of the body, as ultra-violet rays and X-rays. Sunlight and all forms of artificial light are combinations of light waves of varying length. The light of the sun may be fractured in passing thru a prism of glass, breaking into its component rays—the spectrum—of the colors mentioned. This may happen on a large scale when the sun shines thru rain drops, producing the rainbow of red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet, always in that precise order from one end to the other.

ROY C. RIV. Beyond the red rays are invisible heat rays. Beyond the violet are invisible chemical rays, which act upon the photographic plate or film.

Four percent of males and less than one-half of one percent of females are more or less color blind, that is, they are unable to distinguish all of the seven primary colors of the spectrum. A very few are totally color blind, unable to recognize color, seeing everything in varying degrees of gray—which is not a color.

Inability to distinguish red and green is the most frequent. Individuals may be born with this inability inherited almost invariably from the mother. While color-blind males almost never have color-blind children, their daughters married to men of normal stock will have color-blind sons.

HOW TO WIN

Told by Judge Gary

By B. C. Forbes

Editor of Forbes' Magazine

No stock ticker numbers the office of Judge E. H. Gary, head of the steel corporation.

He frowns upon speculation and never indulges in it himself. In the early days, the steel directors' meetings were held at noon and some of the men who were then on the board used to plunge heavily, using their inside information to hoodwink the public. However, that is a thing of the past.

The meetings of the Finance Committee are now held at 2 o'clock and then for the first time the quarterly statements, showing earnings, are produced.

Soon after they are given to the Board of Directors and then to the public, so that no director has any advantage over any other stockholders.

Because Judge Gary refused to squeeze buyer when a boom brought a steel famine, old school financiers signed over the millions his new notions were costing the corporation.

Gary, however, stuck to his guns.

"This corporation is so big that, unless you deal fairly with the public, with competitors and with customers you are bound to encounter trouble sooner or later," he told the directors.

Before the first Brunswick Tire was ever built, we analyzed and tested over 200 tires.

Since 1845 the name of Brunswick has stood for superlative values and fair-dealing.

Tires Differ As Policies Differ

Some Remarkable Facts About Brunswicks

THERE is nothing to prevent any maker from producing a super-tire. All formulas, all methods are well known in the industry. A perfect tire is simply a question of care and skill and cost. These facts can be verified by testing 200 types of high-grade tires and analyzing their materials and construction—as the Brunswick laboratories have done.

In a super-tire, such as The Brunswick, there can be nothing exclusive. Because such a tire must be a composite of all that is best. No one feature must overshadow others.

In Brunswick Tires, for instance, we have included that familiar formula long in use, which makes the best tire tread that's known.

And there's a certain type of fabric which, by test, is stronger than all others. Naturally it is in The Brunswick.

To attain the utmost in tire mileage there are certain reinforcements — certain extras. We have adopted all.

To combat the commonest tire troubles, we have adopted the approved side-wall construction, long tested.

In other words, The Brunswick brings you a combination of supermacies, such as were never possible before.

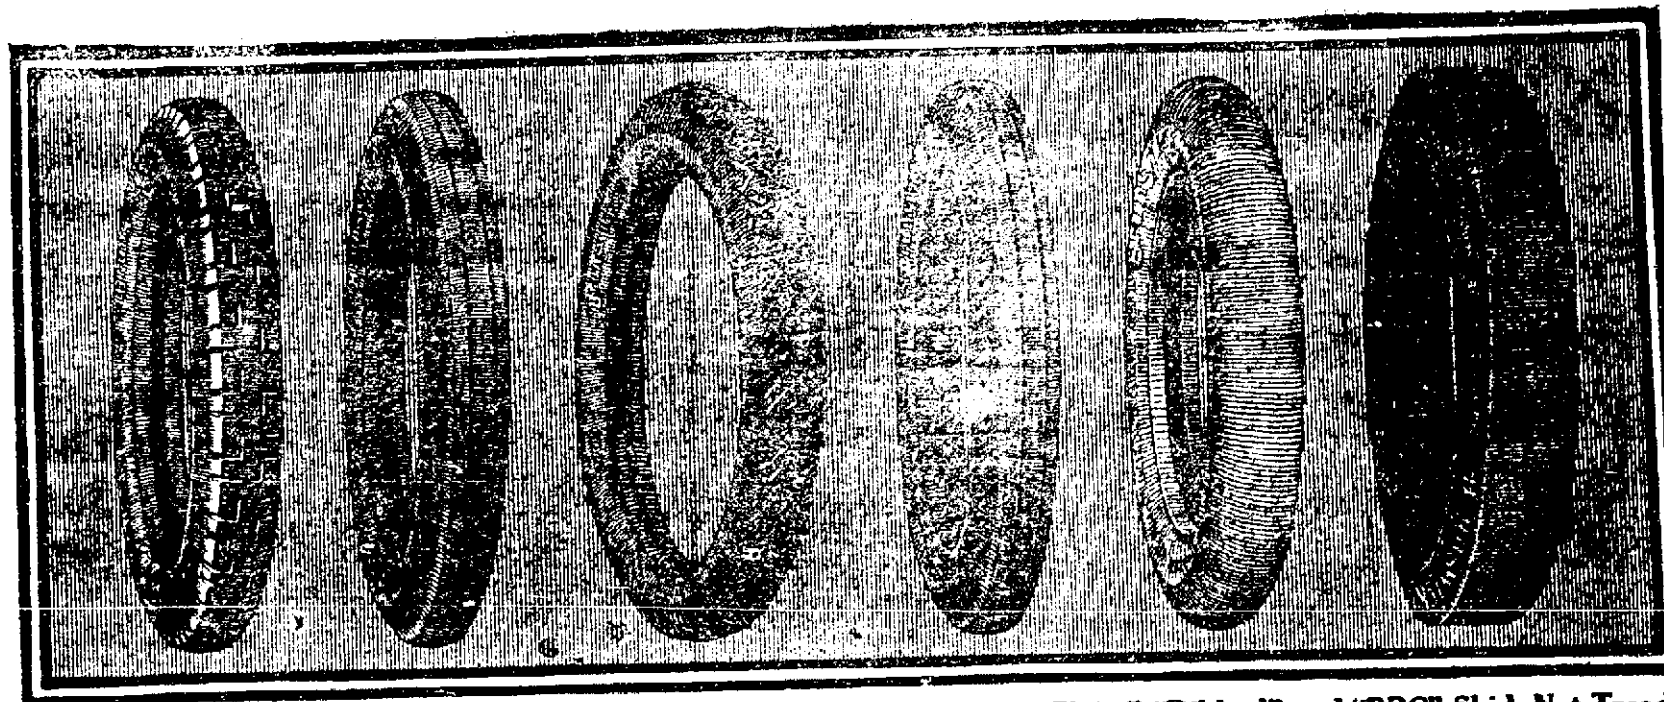

In attaining a tire worthy of the name of Brunswick we were convinced that it depended chiefly on policies and standards, on prejudices and knowledge. Brunswick Standards are known the world around. For 74 years the House of Brunswick has made only products of the highest grade.

Every Brunswick product has attained and held supremacy. The name always insures superlative values. To build a mediocre tire would be unthinkable for such a concern, jealous of its long-standing reputation.

THERE CAN BE TOO MUCH LOVE!

Alice Joyce Will Prove It in Coming Movie

'The Vengeance of Durand'
at Lyric
DEALS WITH JEALOUSY
Lives of Millions Wrecked
Each Year

THERE is such a thing as too much love. The idea is driven home with compelling force by Vitagraph's new super-film, "The Vengeance of Durand." The picture, with Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will be featured at the Lyric theatre soon.

Jealousy wrecks the lives of millions of people each year. It is subtle, crafty and deadly, and in this particular production, Rex Beach presents the follies and sufferings caused by jealous demons. Henri Durand, a stately French gentleman of the old school, represents in this film the character of the man who possesses too much love. His wife, Marion, is considerably his junior, a bewitchingly beautiful woman. The husband's excessive love for his wife leads him to insane jealousy of mere acquaintances whom she meets in the social circles they move in, especially a man named La Farge, who is notoriously unscrupulous. Durand's insane jealousy leads to a continuous-unending conflict. The penings are packed full of dramatic effect, and in the end, the jealous husband contrives a hideous revenge for the innocent object of his suspicions. The backgrounds of the film are unusual and the allegorical titles worthy of mention. In short, the feature is a masterpiece of photography, direction and acting.

Tom Moore with his engaging Irish smile pleased big audiences yesterday at the Regent as the lead in the amusing play, "Toby's Bow." The picture is especially well staged and the cast is a notable one. It will be seen at the Regent again today and tomorrow.

Moore is seen impersonating a Hawaiian dancer, while on a visit to the "Purple Pup," and is quite adept in the art. He's a young playwright you know, living off the royalties of his last book, and is rapidly getting rid of his cash, which is not a difficult task when living in Greenwich Village. His publisher persuades him to leave town and get a fresh perspective on life in the country. So Tom plays the part of James B. Blake, secures the address of a struggling young authoress and engages lodgings at her southern home. Uncle Toby, the family servant and Yama, the Japanese valet of Blake, are not as friendly as they might be, which, however, is merely an unimportant detail of the play. To help the girl with whom, naturally Blake falls in love, they decide to write a story together and after numerous misunderstandings and all kinds of trouble the book is accepted. The financial circumstances of the family are relieved and Eugene Vardeman, the heroine, promises to become the better half of the famous author. Whereupon Uncle Toby, accepting Blake as "one of de fambly," includes him in his famous bow, which heretofore he has reserved for only the members of the family. Hence the name of the picture.

ORPHEUM.—The Great Richards, one of the most mysterious persons in the world, will conclude the engagement as the headline artist extraordinary at the Orpheum theatre for the first half of this week at the two shows tonight—at 7:30 and 9:00 o'clock. At each of these performances the true identity of the Great Richards will be disclosed—whether this mysterious person is a man or a woman. Each of the other acts on this bill, which is declared to be one of the best ever presented at the Orpheum, also will end their engagement at the two shows tonight. In addition to the Great Richards, who presents one of the most magnificent staged and gorgeously costumed dancing novelties ever seen here, are other acts on this program are: Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer, characters from the works of Mark Twain; Brandon and Taylor, is a sensational singing novelty; Clark and La Vere, in a knockout of comedy; Ronair and Ward, in a beautifully staged oddity of dialogue and song. There will be a complete change of program at the Orpheum Thursday, bringing to that playhouse the Charles Edwards Trio as the head-bill, and the five-act bill for the last half of this week and Sunday.

"The Fear Market," by Amelie Rives Troubetzky, which is the first of the new Realart pictures to be shown at the Faurot, is a strong story on a new theme, ably starred by Alice Brady. The plot deals with the menace of society papers, whose scandalous expositions drive their victims sometimes to death. The developments in this case, although intricate, are clearly carried thru and there is sufficient action in it to make an interesting film. Besides that, it is worthy propaganda and the subject has not been overworked in previous pictures, so that it has the attraction of a novel idea well put forward.

Who will appear soon in "The Vengeance of Durand" At the Lyric Theatre

Alice Brady, as Sylvia Stone, gives a good performance. Frank Losee's Maxwell Stone, the human leech, who thrives on the public's misery, but has yet a spark of genuine humanity, as shown in his intense love for his daughter, gives a very polished presentation. The character of Dicky Wilkes, a "society lapdog," is excellently played by Alfred Hickman. The rest of the cast are as good.

Added features of the program include the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's frisky comedy, "A Lady's Tailor." Last times tonight.

REGENT.—Tom Moore made a decided hit at the Regent, yesterday. The picture in which he makes his latest appearance is even better received by this popular star's host of admirers than his previous productions on English themes. "Toby's Bow" is an American theme, thoroughly American in locale and construction. Mr. Moore is perfectly adapted to the role which he assumes in this photoplay and is surrounded by some pretty women in a story that is set in Greenwich Village, New York City and in Virginia. The picture is a success with a capital S and its entertaining qualities are many.

"Toby's Bow" contains a very pretty romantic flavor, and as such is highly appealing to the many women admirers of "Smiling Tom." Likewise to the male element of a modern photoplay audience. The modern audience is composed mostly of people who go to the theatre for diversion and entertainment; for changing scenes and bright, colorful surroundings.

H. B. Warner, distinguished stage and screen star is to be seen at the Regent Friday and Saturday as "Harry West" in Robertson-Cole production, "The Gray Wolf's Ghost," screen adaptation of the celebrated Bret Harte story, "Marjia." It is a virile story of the early West in California.

After Two Years He Makes Report

This Man Now Living in Columbus, Took Dreco Two Years Ago, and Declared His Troubles Never Returned, Showing Results Were Permanent.

Suffered from Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Gastritis, and Constipation.

We have many reports showing that the effects received from taking Dreco are permanent, and that it does not just boost you up while you are taking it. Dreco accomplishes its work by acting on the vital organs to restore them to healthy action, therefore, the good you get from Dreco stays with you.

"I have just moved to Columbus from Clarksburg, W. Va.," stated Mr. Thomas Rolands, in Mykrantz's Drug Store, a few days ago, and seeing Dreco on sale here, came in to report my experience with it. Over two years ago I took Dreco for a bad case of stomach trouble. I was almost past going when I started to take it. All my food disagreed with me, causing severe pains, belching, acid risings, gastritis, and I was badly tormented. Dreco acted very quickly for me and relieved all of these troubles. In all of these two years I have not been troubled again, which shows that Dreco gave me complete and permanent relief."

Being a natural herb medicine, Dreco acts in a natural manner by restoring the organs to healthy action and not by irritating them and forcing action. This makes permanent results. Dreco rouses a sluggish liver to full action, strengthens the kidneys, aids the stomach in carrying its load, overcomes constipation, increases the appetite and induces sound sleep. Dreco is a vegetable remedy, made from roots, herbs, barks and berries.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, Corner Main and High streets.

AMERICAN LEGION RENEWS FIGHT AGAINST CHAMP

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Various posts of the American Legion are acting independently of the national organization in condemning Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, on his war record, according to information given out Wednesday.

The national officers of the legion have not considered taking any official action along such lines, according to G. H. Reunick, assistant adjutant general, Gen. Reunick said. It was his belief that no action would be taken by the national organization.

OBJECT TO DEMPSEY

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — Condemning Jack Dempsey as an unfit representative of American Athletics, Fort Wayne post of the American Legion unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night declaring opposition to his retaining the championship title for America. The resolution is the result of recent agitation against Dempsey for his war record, due to the fact that his service during the war was confined to work in the shipyards.

CLEVELAND IN RESOLUTION

of the war record of Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight, was voiced in a resolution unanimously adopted by the American Legion here. The resolution contains an appreciation of the war record of Georges Carpentier.

OFF TILL FEB.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, proposes to "forget" all negotiations for a Dempsey-Carpentier fight until the middle of February when an option on Carpentier's services held by Charles Cochran, British promoter, expires.

"All the talk in the world from this or that as to what size prize he will give means nothing unless Carpentier as well as Dempsey can sign," said Manager Kearns. "I received a cable from Nate Lewis today, who is with Pal Moore in Paris, saying that Carpentier is tied up with Cochran until the middle of February. If such is the case I am going to sit tight until that time when I will have an invitation to all bidders for the fight, and when all bids are in, accept the best."

STATE FIVE DEFEATED

URBANA, Ill. — After playing a close first half in their game with Illinois Tuesday night, Ohio State University's quietest blew hopelessly in the final period and the Illinois squad triumphed by the count of 40 to 22.

The team work of the Illinois five was far better than that displayed by the Buckeyes and carried the football champions to a win.

Felmey of Illinois was the star man of the game scoring seven field goals and three foul goals.

Chick Harley, football star, made his debut here but retired early in favor of Clark.

FUTURE HYPNOTIC SCRAP—STONY EYE VS. BASILISK

LONDON — The theory of Georges Carpentier's "hypnotic eye" in boxing is true, Hill Town, British humorist, forecasts that prize fights of the future will be held, not in the sporting clubs, but under the aegis of the Society for Physical Research.

Stony-Eyed Sam's Victorious Million-Dollar Look Put World's Champion to Sleep in 66 Seconds! Great work, old hand-lamp.

Projecting himself into 19-ampy-ump, Rowan forecast something like this: "The morning after."

"Some clever eye-work was exhibited at the million dollar contest between Stony-Eyed Sam of Philadelphia, and the Basilisk of Boston, last night at the arena of the Society for Physical Research."

Basilisk projected his personality violently, and the champion, for while it looked as the ton-eye was almost fascinated, he, unawares, however, by some remarkable wave-shifting, in throwing off the spell and then shot some stinging glances at the Basilisk.

"These stunned the terrific Boston bean and then Stony-Eye hurled his lightning Hard Look at the Basilisk. The Basilisk stood, as the referee while the referee counted him out."

"The Basilisk remained dazed for half an hour and Stony-Eye had to be called from the soda fountain to slap him back to consciousness."

A challenge for a purse of $2988-7766554432211 has been telephoned to Jack Dempsey.

"Dempsey says the price is too low."

Your belligerent children, Rowan says, may also be spell-bound by advertisements like this:

"Phyric pugilists! Are you peevish and irritable before entering the trance arena? Do you feel a dryness of the tongue and a jitter of the eyes? Try the Mesmer Correspondence course as expanded for pugilists (Jack Dempsey, patron; Francois Desamps, treasurer.)"

"Willard writes, 'If I had been able to take your Mesmer Course early in life I could still knock out anything on earth.'"

NEEDS MORE TRAINING

NEW YORK — Al Bald, promising infield recruit, has been framed out by the Giants to Rochester, International League.

LOCOS BARELY GRAB GAME

With a patched-up line-up the East Iron five threw a scare into the first-place Locomotives Tuesday evening at the "Y" gym when the Locos were able to win by a score of but 12 to 6 after one of the scrappiest games witnessed in the shop loop for some time.

Several members of the regular iron workers five were not on hand and substitutes were used. These second string men nearly proved to be the undoing of the league leaders who had their hands loaded moving out at the finish. The score was the lowest run up by the Locos in any of their league games.

In direct contrast to the Loco-East Iron game as far as score is concerned the South High faculty five, jolted away with the Ohio Steel five to the tune of 40 to 7. Headier-shotti forward, scored 23 points for the faculty gang.

Garford trimmed Gramm-Bernstein easily 40 to 10. Grant at forward was the leading point scorer with 22 tallies to his credit.

Mr. Breardon has been a prominent baseball enthusiast for a number of years.

George McBride

The recent announcement of Clark Griffith's rise to the ranks of the moguls hatched the rumor that he will retire as active manager of the Nationals and that George McBride, veteran infielder, will become pilot.

McBride has been Griffith's lieutenant for the last few seasons and has temporarily managed the club on occasions when Griffith had to leave the team on business trips.

George is known to be one of the brainiest and steadiest men in baseball. He started playing baseball nineteen years ago with the Milwaukee City League. The next year, 1902, he was with Milwaukee and Kansas City in the American Association. He is a member of both the Peoria and St. Joseph clubs in the Western league the next year.

In 1904 he was with St. Joseph. The next year he was drafted by Pittsburgh and then traded to St. Louis for Jim Brann. The Cards released him in the middle of the 1906 season to Kansas City. On Sept. 2, 1907, he was purchased from the K. C. by Washington and has been with that club ever since. He never has been a heavy hitter but was one of the best shortstops in the game for years before he began slowing up.

OHIO HEADS OPPOSED TO STOPPING "PRO" RUGBY

By Henry L. Farrell

NEW YORK — Professional football must go.

This was the edict of the National Collegiate Athletic association at its winter meeting here recently.

To curb what was looked upon as a menace to the growth of football, as a national sport, university legislation was urged to rescind the letting of an college football man who participated in the professional game after he finishes his course.

The western conference fired the first gun in the campaign by adopting this defense.

Other universities and groups no doubt will follow in the same trail but not all of them.

Many of the western and southern officials do not fear the professional game as a cloud that threatens the life of the gridiron pastime.

Among them is Coach Livingstone who has a habit of turning out championship teams in the Ohio conference for Denison university.

"Colleges would not think of rescinding the diploma of a graduate who was guilty of some civil breach. Why then, should a football player be deprived of an earned letter for committing an alleged sport offense?" he said during the recent meeting.

Ohio is the center of professional football. The game has grown to a fixture there not because the fans prefer it to the college game, but because they haven't the chances that eastern fans have to see high class collegiate games.

Some of the delegates from the middle west deny that professional football is a disgrace.

They also argue that similar legislation should be enacted against baseball players who turn their talents to professional games and against salaried coaches in the colleges who employ their knowledge to mercenary ends.

Glenn Warner, football boss of Pittsburgh and one of the best known authorities of the game, has this to say:

"Football should not be encouraged as a professional sport because it is not adapted to it. Football requires strict supervision to keep down abuses, needs skillful, well-trained players and pure spirit. Professional football would have a longer time embodying all these essentials than a college team. Soccer is an ideal sport for professional players and I would not be surprised to see it more generally accepted when it is introduced to the thresholds of the professional Rugby game."

PAL MOORE BACK AFTER HERMANN

NEW YORK — Pal Moore, the Memphis bantam will arrive here January 29 from London, where he knocked out Eugene Criqui recently.

The American is returning to get a match with Pete Hermann for the world's championship. Johnny Griffiths, Akron, Ohio, who made the trip across with Moore, will remain in the English capital. He meets Jack Davis in Liverpool Tuesday night, four days later he boxes Albert Vadioud in Paris; and on January 30 he meets Jack Craig in London.

BAR CHAMP FROM NEW JERSEY RING

TRENTON, N. J. — Jack Dempsey will not be permitted to fight Georges Carpentier or to engage in any other exhibition in New Jersey, according to a statement issued by John S. Smith, president of the New Jersey boxing commission. The action was taken because of the war record of Dempsey who was referred to as a "labor scout for a ship yard."

SAY RICKARD IS WITH COCHRANE

NEW YORK — Tex Rickard, promoter of the Dempsey-Mohr fight will have a hand in the Dempsey-Carpentier affair, according to a report here among boxing fans.

Rickard is said to be the sport partner of Charles B. Cochrane, a London promoter, who is negotiating a day that he has Carpentier tied up with a contract and that he will stage the event.

No new "million dollar" offers have been made this week, making a lull in the race of promoters for the battle.

KANE DECLARES HE IS POWERLESS TO CHECK GOUGERS

Handicapped by Cooke's Refusal to Reorganize Wartime Fair-Price Board, He Says

ATTORNEY'S DUTY TO STOP PROFITEERING, SAYS HEINZ

Prosecutor Has No Time to Answer Questions Concerning Action in Other Cities

With the housewives of this city clamoring for direct, vigorous action against the food gougers, whom they hold responsible for the undernourishment of their children, Francis Kane, United States district attorney, declared yesterday he was powerless to check profiteering.

Mr. Kane complained he was handicapped by the refusal of Cooke, formerly food administrator of Philadelphia, to reorganize fair-price board. That of publicity, ought to be of profiteers, he said.

But Howard Heinz, attorney for Pennsylvania, told Mr. Kane on that point.

view with the PUBLIC LENDOROUGH last night Mr. Heinz said, although he was making every effort to have fair-price boards re-established that would not relieve the federal authorities from their duty to stop profiteering.

The district attorney said that the Lever food-control act prove to be effective in cases of profiteering as distinct from profiteering in the case of green vegetables, which is difficult to prove violations.

Mr. Kane acknowledges that prices are incredibly high. Ignoring a price of meats, regarding which Robert E. Simmons, agent of the State Food and Dairy Department and government food and drug inspector, has given him a mass of evidence, he said, that "the price of green vegetables are terrible."

Mr. Kane said he had a great deal of trouble in getting the food control act enforced. He said he had a great deal of trouble in getting the food control act enforced.

Great Quantities of Food Seized by Federal Agents in Big Cities

INDICATIONS of the real punch behind the high cost of living were given yesterday when federal agents in many cities.

While Attorney General Cummings said he intended to go to higher prices than those listed by word came from Chicago, St. Louis and New York, that large quantities of foodstuffs by federal agents under the food control act.

In Chicago 1262 tubs of butter, 284,150 pounds of coffee, which were seized in Birmingham 190 barrels of flour.

REGULATORY FOOD POWER IS NEEDED

Fair-Price Boards Will Solve H. C. L. Problem, Says Administrator

Cooke Reiterates Refusal to Return for Food Fight

Howard Heinz, food administrator of Pennsylvania, in an interview with the LEBANON-Over the long-ago, last night, said he is in his power to induce administrators to reorganize fair-price boards, as requested by State attorney general. As his opinion, that these boards will be secured upon the high cost of food, that it rests with the people to assume regulatory of the entire system of food.

to the refusal of Jay Cooke, food administrator for Philadelphia, to return to this city from New York and reorganize the fair-price board here, Mr. Heinz expressed that Mr. Cooke may yet be assumed that burden.

Mr. Cooke, in a talk over the telephone last night said he was in his determination not to resign his duties as food administrator.

War Is Over, Says Cooke

"The war is over," said Mr. Cooke. "I don't see why I should come to the job of food administrator. I am a lawyer. The present situation may be an act of the war, but I can't see why I should get mixed up in it. If I would return and ask me to do the work that would be a disaster."

Who said H.C.L.?

LAST season's suit still holds together and we can half-sole our shoes. And you can still buy a big generous tin of the jolliest old pipe tobacco that ever came down the pike, without mortgaging the old homestead. Hooray!

Good old Kentucky is still growing Velvet's honest fragrant leaf. We're still ageing Velvet in the wood. Velvet's just as smooth and mellow and mild as it ever was. The quality's there and the quantity's there just the same.

Take the "cost" out of the "high cost of living" and what do you get? Why, "high living" of course. Well, sir, that's what Velvet does.

It's like Velvet Joe says:

"Anybody can tell you how much Velvet costs. But only yo' old pipe can tell you how much Velvet is worth."

There's goodness knows how many pipe loads in every tin of Velvet. Or if you want the mildest cigarette ever—there's 45 big ones in every tin.

The United States food administrator, through his own path, has taken the position that the food control act is a disaster. He has taken the position that the food control act is a disaster. He has taken the position that the food control act is a disaster.

THERE CAN BE TOO MUCH LOVE!

Alice Joyce Will Prove It in Coming Movie

'The Vengeance of Durand' at Lyric

DEALS WITH JEALOUSY

Lives of Millions Wrecked Each Year

THERE is such a thing as too much love. The idea is driven home with compelling force by Vitaphone's new super-film, "The Vengeance of Durand." The picture, with Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will be featured at the Lyric theatre soon.

Jealousy wrecks the lives of millions of people each year. It is subtle, crafty and deadly, and in this particular production, Rex Beach presents the follies and sufferings caused by jealous demons. Henri Durand, a stately French gentleman of the old school, represents in this film the character of the man who possesses too much love. His wife, Marion, is considerably his junior, a bewitchingly beautiful woman. The husband's excessive love for his wife leads him to insane jealousy of mere acquaintances whom she meets in the social circles they move in, especially a man named La Farge, who is notoriously unscrupulous. Durand's insane jealousy leads to a continuous—unending conflict. The penings are packed full of dramatic effect, and in the end, the jealous husband contrives a hideous revenge for the innocent object of his suspicions. The backgrounds of the film are unusual and the allegorical titles worthy of mention. In short, the feature is a masterpiece of photography, direction and acting.

Tom Moore with his engaging Irish smile pleased big audiences yesterday at the Regent as the lead in the amusing play, "Toby's Bow." The picture is especially well staged and the cast is a notable one. It will be seen at the Regent again today and tomorrow.

Moore is seen impersonating a Hawaiian dancer, while on a visit to the "Purple Pup," and is quite adept in the art. He's a young playright you know, living off the royalties of his last book, and is rapidly getting rid of his cash, which is not a difficult task when living in Greenwich Village. His publisher persuades him to leave town and get a fresh perspective on life in the country. So Tom plays the part of James B. Blake, secures the address of a struggling young authoress and engages lodgings at her southern home. Uncle Toby, the family servant and Yama, the Japanese valet of Blake, are not as friendly as they might be, which, however, is merely an unimportant detail of the play. To help the girl with whom, naturally Blake falls in love, they decide to write a story together and after numerous misunderstandings and all kinds of trouble the book is accepted, the financial circumstances of the family are relieved and Eugene Vardeman, the heroine, promises to become the better half of the famous author. Whereupon, Uncle Toby, accepting Blake as "one of the family," includes him in his famous bow, which heretofore he has reserved for only the members of the family. Hence the name of the picture.

ORPHEUM.—The Great Richards, one of the most mysterious persons in the world, will conclude the engagement as the headline artist for the first half of this week at the two shows tonight—at 7:30 and 9:00 o'clock. At each of these performances the true identity of the Great Richards will be disclosed—whether this mysterious person is a man or a woman. Each of the other acts on this bill, which is declared to be one of the best ever presented at the Orpheum, also will end their engagement at the two shows tonight. In addition to the Great Richards, who presents one of the most magnificent staged and gorgeously costumed dancing novelties ever seen here, the other acts on this program are Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer, characters from the works of Mark Twain; Brandon and Taylor, the sensational singing novelty; Clark and La Vere, in a knockout of comedy; Ronald and Ward, in a beautifully staged oddity of dialogue and song. There will be a complete change of program at that playhouse the Charles Edwards Trio, as the headline offering on the five-act bill for the last half of this week and Sunday.

FAUROT.—"The Fear Market," by Amelie Rives Troubetzky, which is the first of the new Realart pictures to be shown at the Faurot, is a strong story on a new theme, ably starred by Alice Brady. The plot deals with the menace of society papers, whose scandalous expositions drive their victims sometimes to death. The developments in this case, also intricate, are clearly carried thru and there is sufficient action in it to make an interesting film. Besides that, it is worthy propaganda and the subject has not been over-worked in previous pictures, so that it has the attraction of a novel idea well put forward.

ALICE JOYCE
Who will appear soon in "The Vengeance of Durand" At the Lyric Theatre

Alice Brady, as Sylvia Stone, gives a good performance. Frank Losee's Maxwell Stone, the human leech, who thrives on the public's misery but has yet a spark of genuine humanity, as shown in his intense love for his daughter, gives a very polished presentation. The character of Dickie Wilkes, a "society landog," is excellently played by Alfred Hickman. The rest of the cast are as good.

Added features of the program include the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's frisky comedy, "A Lady's Tailor." Last times tonight.

REGENT.—Tom Moore made a decided hit at the Regent yesterday. The picture in which he makes his latest appearance is even better received by this popular star's host of admirers than his previous productions on English themes. "Toby's Bow" is an American theme, thoroughly American in locale and construction. Mr. Moore is perfectly adapted to the role which he assumes in this photoplay and is surrounded by some pretty women in a story that is set in Greenwich Village, New York City and in Virginia. The picture is a success with a capital S and its entertaining qualities are many. "Toby's Bow" contains a very pretty romantic flavor, and as such is highly appealing to the many women admirers of "Smiling Tom." Likewise to the male element of a modern photoplay audience. The modern audience is composed mostly of people who go to the theatre for diversion and entertainment; for changing scenes and bright, colorful surroundings.

H. B. Warner, distinguished stage and screen star is to be seen at the Regent Friday and Saturday as "Harry West" in Robertson-Cole production, "The Gray Wolf's Ghost," a screen adaptation of the celebrated Bret Harte story, "Mautia." It is a true story of the early West in California.

After Two Years He Makes Report

This Man Now Living in Columbus, Took Dreco Two Years Ago, and Declared His Troubles Never Returned, Showing Results Were Permanent.

Suffered from Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Gastritis, and Constipation.

We have many reports showing that the effects received from taking Dreco are permanent, and that it does not just boost you up while you are taking it. Dreco accomplishes its work by acting on the vital organs to restore them to healthy action, therefore, the good you get from Dreco stays with you.

"I have just moved to Columbus from Clarksburg, W. Va.," stated Mr. Thomas Rolands, in Mykantz's Drug Store, a few days ago, and, scolding Dreco on sale here, came in to report my experience with it. Over two years ago I took Dreco for a bad case of stomach trouble. I was almost past going when I started to take it. All my food disagreed with me, causing severe pains, belching, acid risings, gastritis, and I was badly constipated. Dreco acted very quickly for me and relieved all of these troubles. In all of these two years I have not been troubled again, which shows that Dreco gave me complete and permanent relief."

Being a natural herb medicine, Dreco acts in a natural manner by restoring the organs to healthy action and not by clogging them and forcing action. This makes permanent results. Dreco rouses a sluggish liver to full action, strengthens the kidneys, aids the stomach in carrying its load, overcomes constipation, increases the appetite and induces sound sleep. Dreco is a vegetable remedy, made from roots, herbs, barks and berries. All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, Corner Main and High streets.

We see them everywhere, and how often we hear the expression, "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly."
